REGULAR CALL FOR PAPERS

The journal seeks to publish the results of research from both national and international universities and research centers. In this sense, the journal is aimed at economists, researchers and professionals in related areas to economics and social sciences. The special editions are defined based on criteria that seeks to develop a specific topic in an important area. In this opportunity, the Journal Desarrollo y Sociedad invite researchers and scholar to send manuscripts to the regular edition. The Journal will consider unpublished and original manuscripts (Spanish or English). The articles must have not been in any other academic publication process. The topics of the manuscripts must be related to Economics, Development or Social Sciences.

Every manuscript will be pre-evaluated by the Editorial Team, based on academic standards and originality. Those manuscripts that satisfy this requirements, will be evaluated by peer reviewers using the double-blind procedure. The reviewer's comments will be known by the authors, who would be able to resubmit the manuscript, if the Editorial Team considers it so.

Authors who wish to submit their work to Desarrollo y Sociedad Journal must send an anonymous version of the paper, in pdf format through Scholar One (<https://mc04.manuscriptcentral.com/rdys>). Log in with your account. If you're a first-time user, use the 'Create an Account' link to create it. Once logged in, select 'Author Center' and then start the process.

The articles have to be written in Times New Roman 12, space and a half, with a maximum length of 40 pages including annexes, charts, graphs and references, satisfying the editorial policy (<https://revistas.uniandes.edu.co/for-authors/dys/tips-for-authors>). The manuscripts must be written in Spanish or English. If you want to send comments to the journal, please contact the editor, Professor Jorge Higinio Maldonado, Universidad de los Andes, to the address Calle 19A No. 1-37 Este, Bloque W, Bogotá (Colombia), or by email to editor.desarrollosociedad@uniandes.edu.co; or to the editorial assistant, Jaime Vera, by email to revistadesarrollosociedad@uniandes.edu.co.
